system and software version number, IP address, the type of browser you use, the country and language code and time zone setting. We do not use this information to identify any individual.

Additionally, if you visit our premises, for security reasons we might also record your personal data through video or other electronic, digital, or wireless surveillance system or device (e.g. CCTV). If we do so, you will be properly informed on our premises.

Information We Collect From Other Sources

To the extent permitted by applicable law, in addition to our recruitment channels or career websites, we may also obtain information about you from other sources, such as from third party recruiters or other websites on the Internet (subject to such third party's privacy notices), or from a background check report.

3. The Reasons for Processing your Personal Data

To enable us to carry out the recruitment process and to process your application, we may process your personal data for the following purposes.

To enable your use of the Ascensia Careers website and to process information about you for recruiting purposes, we may process your personal data:

- to identify and evaluate candidates, assess skills, qualifications and interest against Ascensia career opportunities;
- to set up and conduct interviews and assessments, to evaluate, select and recruit applicants;
- to conduct background checks as required or permitted by applicable local law;
- to contact third party references provided by applicant to evaluate applicant's previous performances or as otherwise necessary in context of recruitment activities; or
- to enable your use of the Ascensia careers website when you choose to register for an account.

To manage and improve relationships with current and potential job candidates, we may process your personal data:

- to identify and evaluate candidates, assess skills, qualifications and interest against Ascensia career opportunities;

- to contact applicants by phone or email;
- to inform applicants of available vacancies;
- to provide applicants with information relating to their application and to fulfil requests;
- to offer applicants suitable opportunities for employment within Ascensia;
- to respond to applicants' requests;
- to keep records related to the Ascensia hiring process; or
- to better understand how our career website is used and to improve the recruitment experience.

In order to comply with local legal and regulatory requirements, we may process your personal data:

- to provide information to government institutions or supervisory authorities as applicable in all countries in which Ascensia operates, such as tax and national insurance deductions, record-keeping and reporting obligations;
- to comply with government inspections and other requests from government or other public authorities;
- to respond to legal process such as subpoenas; or
- to pursue legal rights and remedies, and manage any internal complaints or claims.

To maintain the security of the our career website and our sites, systems and networks, we may process your personal data:

- to deploy and maintain technical and organizational security measures; or
- to conduct internal audits and investigations.

In defence of legal claims, we may process your personal data to establish, exercise or defend legal claims to which Ascensia is subject.

4. a) Legal Bases for Personal Data Processing (For Individuals in the European Economic Area)

In order to be able to process your personal data, we may rely on different legal bases, including:

- your consent (only when legally required or permitted). If we rely on your consent as a legal basis for processing your personal data, you may withdraw your consent at any time;
- the necessity to establish a contractual relationship with you;
- the necessity for us to comply with legal obligations and to establish, exercise, or defend against legal claims;
- the necessity to pursue our legitimate interests, including;
 - to ensure that our networks and information are secure;

- to administer and generally conduct business within Ascensia; and
- to prevent or investigate suspected or actual violations of law;
- the necessity to respond to your requests (such as responding to your requests regarding the handling of, deletion of, or changes to your personal data);
- the necessity to protect the vital interests of any person; or
- any other legal basis otherwise permitted by local laws;

4. b) Grounds for Data Processing (For Individuals in Switzerland)

We will handle your personal data in line with Swiss data protection laws, including ensuring it is accurate, and only using the minimum data necessary for what we are doing. For some activities we might ask you for consent. In other cases, we handle personal data as required by Swiss law or where we have an overriding interest, such as when we need to handle your personal data to meet our employment contract obligations.

5. Sharing your Personal Data

To fulfill the purposes for which your personal data has been collected (refer to Section 3 on “The Reasons for Processing your Personal Data”) we may disclose your personal data with:

- Ascensia Affiliates: Due to our global nature, your personal data may be shared with certain Ascensia affiliates. Access to personal data within Ascensia will be limited to those who have a need to know the information, for the purposes described in this Privacy Notice, and may include your interviewers, the relevant manager(s) of the respective job offer and other selected personnel within Ascensia.
- Service Providers: We may outsource certain personal data processing activities to trusted third party service providers to perform functions and provide services to us, such as:
 - IT service providers
 - Consultants
 - Background check providers
- Public and Governmental Authorities: When required by law, or as necessary to protect our rights, we may share your personal data with entities that regulate or have jurisdiction over Ascensia.
- Professional advisors and others: We may share your personal data with other parties including professional advisors, such as:
 - Banks
 - Insurance companies
 - Auditors

- Lawyers
 - Accountants
 - Other outside professional advisors
- Other parties in connection with corporate transactions: We may also, from time to time, share your personal data in the course of corporate transactions, such as during a sale or purchase of any Ascensia business or asset, or any reorganization, merger, joint venture, or other disposition of Ascensia’s business, assets, or stock.

6. Transferring and storing your Personal Data

Due to our global nature, the personal data you provide to us may be transferred to or accessed by any of the Ascensia offices where our recruitment team operates, or to trusted partners. As a result, your personal data will be handled outside the country where you live if this is necessary for the purposes described in this Privacy Notice. As far as possible, these transfers are to countries that data protection authorities generally regard as providing an adequate level of protection for personal data, including Poland, Ireland, the Netherlands, France and the United Kingdom.

If you are located in the European Economic Area (EEA), we also transfer your personal data to countries located outside of the EEA. With regard to transfers from Switzerland to countries that are not recognized by Switzerland as providing an adequate level of protection, including China and the United States, we have put in place appropriate safeguards to protect your personal data, such as organizational and legal measures (e.g. approved European Commission standard contractual clauses, also approved by the Swiss authorities).

You may obtain more information about these safeguards by contacting the Ascensia Privacy Office. You will find the contact details in Section 14 “Contact Us.” We will process any request in line with any local laws and our policies.

If you are a resident of a country with data localization laws, your personal data will be stored on servers located within your country.

7. Retention of Your Personal Data

We will retain your personal data for as long as needed or permitted in light of the purpose(s) for which it was obtained. The criteria used to determine our retention periods include:

- (i) the length of time we have an ongoing employee relationship with you;
- (ii) whether there is a legal obligation to which we are subject; or
- (iii) whether retention is advisable in light of our legal position (such as in regard to applicable statutes of limitations, litigation or regulatory investigations).

For the purposes of the Ascensia Careers website, the retention period will be 1 year from the date you register for an account.

8. Keeping your Personal Data Secure

Ascensia implements appropriate administrative, technical and physical safeguards to protect the confidentiality, integrity and availability of your personal data. We will take appropriate measures that are consistent with applicable privacy and data security laws and regulations, including requiring our service providers to use appropriate measures to protect the confidentiality and security of your personal data. Depending on the state of the art, the costs of the implementation and the nature of the data to be protected, we put in place technical and organizational measures to prevent risks such as destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorized disclosure of, or access to your personal data.

9. Use of Cookies

We use cookies and similar technologies. These are small data files that are sent to your browser and placed on your computer's hard drive when you visit a website. The information the cookie contains is set by a website's server and it can be used when the user visits the website. Cookies are designed to remember things that an internet user has done while on a website in the past, which can include logging in or clicking on links.

We make continuous improvements and changes to the ways we use cookies and similar technologies and we will keep this section of our Privacy Notice updated with the cookies we use. We use the following cookies on our website:

- Strictly necessary cookies: Required for the operation of our website. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of our website, to move around the website and to use its features.
- Functionality cookies: These recognise you when you return to our website. This enables us to personalise our content for you, for example, your choice of language or region.
- Analytical/performance cookies: Allowing Ascensia to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around our website when they are using it. This helps us to improve the way our website works, for example, by ensuring that users are finding what they are looking for easily.

Some of these are persistent cookies that may be used if you log on to restricted areas of our website to remember who you are. Others are session cookies that may be used for anonymous identification of a website visit for technical purposes only. Session cookies are stored only temporarily during the browsing sessions and are deleted once the browser is closed.

We use cookies and similar technologies for the following purposes:

- to improve our website security;

- to identify you when you sign-in to our website and remember your preferences;
- to analyse how you use our website by tracking specific actions on our website, such as visits to the various pages of our website;
- to collect anonymous statistical information on how visitors use our website so that we can make improvements to its usability and to improve content delivery value;

We also use cookies and similar technologies provided by other companies to collect web traffic information such as time, date, IP address, and browser, so that we can store your preferences and other information on your device and save you time on subsequent visits by eliminating the need to repeatedly enter the same information. In most circumstances the information captured cannot identify you as an individual. This data could possibly lead to your identification, but we do not use it to do so.

10. Opting out of cookies

You may refuse to accept cookies by altering the settings on your internet browser (for example Internet Explorer, Chrome and Firefox). Please note that if you choose not to permit cookies some areas of our Website may not function properly or be accessible.

In general, by consulting the help menu item in your internet browser, instructions on how to disable or delete cookies is available. Most browsers are set-up to accept these cookies automatically. In addition, you can deactivate the storing of cookies or adjust your browser to inform you before the cookie is stored on your computer. You may also use self-regulation programs available in your jurisdiction to manage the way that companies other than Google advertise to you, such as the EU-based Your Online Choices.

11. Exercising Your Rights

Residents of the European Economic Area (EEA) or Switzerland: You have the right to: request

(a) access to the personal data we hold about you; (b) request we correct any inaccurate personal data we hold about you; (c) request we delete any personal data we hold about you; (d) restrict the processing of personal data we hold about you; (e) object to the processing of personal data we hold about you; and/or (f) receive any personal data we hold about you in a structured and commonly used machine-readable format or have such personal information transmitted to another company. We may ask you for additional information to confirm your identity and for security purposes, before disclosing information requested to you.

Where you have been asked to consent to the processing of your personal data, we will provide you with an opportunity to withdraw your consent. You can withdraw consent, such as by contacting us using our contacts details below. In each case you will be given information about how to withdraw consent. Any withdrawal of consent will not affect the lawfulness of the processing based on your consent before the withdrawal. Please also note that where you withdraw consent, we will only stop processing your personal data that relates to the withdrawal of consent.

If you would like to review, change, restrict, or delete the personal data you have supplied to us (to the extent Ascensia is not otherwise permitted or required to keep such personal data), if you wish to object to certain data processing operations (as permitted by applicable law), or if you would like to receive a copy of your personal data (in a common machine readable format, to the extent such is required by applicable law), then you can contact: workday@ascensia.com.

For any other questions related to the protection of your personal data by Ascensia or regarding this Privacy Notice in general, you can contact the Ascensia Privacy Office at dp_office@phchd.com or by mail to Ascensia Diabetes Care Holdings AG, Peter Merian-Strasse 90, P.O. Box, 4052 Basel, Switzerland. We will process any request in line with any local laws and our policies and procedures. If you are located in the EEA, you have the right to lodge a complaint about how we process your personal data with the supervisory authority in your country.

12. Your Responsibilities

We would like to remind you that it is your responsibility to ensure, to the best of your knowledge, that the personal data you provide us with are accurate, complete, and up-to-date. Furthermore, if you choose to share personal data of other people (such as dependents) with us, it is your responsibility to collect such personal data in compliance with local legal requirements. For instance, you should inform such other people, whose personal data you provide to Ascensia, about the content of this Privacy Notice and obtain their consent (provided they are legally competent to give consent) for the use of that personal data by Ascensia as set out in this Privacy Notice (including transfer and disclosure).

13. Changes to this Privacy Notice

Any changes we make to our Privacy Notice in the future will be posted on this page and, where appropriate, notified to you by e-mail. Please check back frequently to see any updates or changes to our Privacy Notice.

14. Contact Us
